Location

Situated on Suakin Street, these offices reside in the highly celebrated area of Sydney's upper north Shore, pinpointed just 16km north-west of the CBD. There is excellent road links surrounding the hub in addition to several local bus routes and Pymble station which is a 10 minute stroll from here. Another benefit is the selection of eating options nearby - about 170 metres from here can be found Multigroup Distribution Services, a well-liked establishment for snacks and meals after work. For firms and employees that do business overseas, the International Airport is no more than 31 km away, a travel time of approximately 29 minutes assuming regular traffic conditions. Being in such a sought after Sydney position means that Suakin Street can claim to be one of, if not the most advantageous locations for modern, productive businesses, regardless of sector.
